

St. Timothy's Episcopal Church

The Season of the Holy Spirit

With our celebration of Pentecost on May 31st, the season of the Holy Spirit has begun. It is the longest season in the Church year, stretching from Pentecost Sunday to Advent. Throughout this season we recall how, according to the Bible, the Holy Spirit has been active in the past, and we look for evidence of the Holy Spirit's activity in our own lives. A variety of gifts have been attributed to the Holy Spirit, including the ability to speak in other languages, physical strength, wisdom, skill in teaching and preaching, miraculous healing, artistic and musical talent, prophetic truth, goodness, generosity, knowledge, leadership, discernment, the multiplication of food to serve hungry people, protection from danger, visions, inspired dreams, new life, forgiveness, consecration and sanctification, intercession, creation, etc. The Holy Spirit works through the Sacraments of the Church and in the world, drawing humanity and the world to God. The Holy Spirit is the ruach (Hebrew), the pneuma (Greek), the "wind" and "breath" of God.

Some theologians have divided history into different ages depending on God's activity. The period from Creation to the birth of Jesus Christ is The Age of God the Father. The period from the Incarnation to Pentecost is The Age of God the Son. The period from the Pentecost to the present is The Age of God the Holy Spirit. Hence we live in the age of the Holy Spirit.

So, have you noticed what gifts you have been given to serve God, what gifts the people around you have been given, how God's Holy Spirit is working in your midst and in the world?

On Pentecost, God's Holy Spirit, the Spirit of Christ, was set loose in the world; thanks be to God!

Godly Play

In many churches, summer is a time when things slow down. The program year comes to a close, school ends, and people go on vacation. This summer, the Holy Spirit has other plans for our Christian Education team! We will be pouring time, creativity, and energy into preparing for a program new to St. Timothy's called Godly Play. According to the website, "Godly Play teaches children the art of using religious language - parable, sacred story, silence and liturgical action - helping them become more fully aware of the mystery of God's presence in their lives." [<http://www.godlyplay.org>] This Montessori-based, storytelling program is designed for children ages 2-12. Next year, we hope to offer this program during Children's Chapel and in the Pre-K and Kindergarten classes. Several of our teachers returned from seeing this program in action at other churches and spread their enthusiasm to others. Now we have ten Christian Education leaders and teachers eager to participate with teachers from other churches in Region V in an all-day training session at St. Timothy's to become Godly Play storytellers.

Room B-1, the large room downstairs reserved for ministry meetings, will house the Godly Play materials. Keith Pinkard, a professional contractor, has generously agreed to build shelves along the walls to display materials for the sacred stories. Jim Showalter, a woodworking hobbyist, has offered to take the lead in making materials for the program so that we will not have to purchase all of them. All summer long, you will see and hear about ways for your family to "Adopt a Story." The Stewardship and Christian Education Committees will display a large sign-up sheet with "wish list" items and photos. You can either make the requested materials yourselves to match a specific Biblical story or purchase the figures from godlyplay.com. This classroom will truly belong to the entire congregation, and we will all celebrate our work at an open house on Welcome Home Sunday, September 13. When you enter B-1, you will see at a glance the story of who we are as a people of God, beginning with creation, moving through the exodus and return, and ending with the parables. We look forward to beginning this journey with all of you on behalf of the children in our congregation!

~Rev. Leslie

OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND

Earlier this year, Rev. Leslie wrote (The Word, February 2009) about “stewardship of people” and observed “We, the people of St. Tim’s, have such rich gifts in each other, such amazing resources waiting to be discovered ... On Sunday mornings, we each sit in our individual pews, brimming with potential, longing for someone to heal us where we hurt and to notice and draw out the best of who we are.” Leslie asked how we could “get from where we are, each at different points on our faith journey, longing to be transformed, to a place where we feel connected to each other as valued members of the body of Christ?” And she suggested promising possibilities for getting involved in the stewardship of people here at St. Timothy’s.

Excitingly, some have already found ways to put this vision into practice. Many folks embraced the opportunity to build up community by participating in events such as the Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper, the Newcomer’s Welcome Wine and Cheese Reception, Charlie’s Chili Cook-off, the Parish Weekend Retreat at Shrine Mont—for example—and sat next to someone they didn’t know. Small groups of folks with a passion for these ministries worked together as a team to organize and hold these events—they called on us to help out on individual, one-time tasks and several responded. The Volunteer Graffiti Wall gave witness to the generous and varied ways in which parishioners give of time and talent to help others. Ministries have been examining their needs for more helping hands to further their missions and ways to make sure we all know about these needs (a few of these opportunities are listed in this newsletter!). We’ve become more intentional in noticing strengths and talents in others, and encouraging/supporting them in using those gifts to touch the lives of others. Some participated in the class Serving from the Heart to explore their own spiritual gifts (watch for another offering of this wonderful class in the fall).

These inspirational examples of a vision embraced remind us that OPPORTUNITIES ABOUND to be generous stewards of our own gifts and talents as well as to be good stewards of those around us, valuing each person as a true gift from God. Opportunities abound for us to live into our baptismal charge “to seek and serve Christ in all persons.” And opportunities abound for healing, strengthening and growth. Thanks be to God!

We are all called to remember that our parish commitment to “Abundant Giving, Abundant Life” includes time and talent as well as treasure. Earlier this year, Duncan Hutcheon and I (both past Senior Wardens) jointly discerned a call to give our own gifts, talents and experiences with helping to focus in some specific ways on the stewardship of people here at St. Timothy’s. To us, this does not mean merely finding warm bodies to fill up committee positions! Our vision is that all members participate in the life of the church at a level that both enriches the mission of St. Timothy’s and with which they are comfortable. To this end, we have sought/received Vestry approval in the formation of a new ministry. Our hopes are that this ministry will complement the stewardship of people efforts already underway by

- helping to raise the awareness of the people of St. Timothy’s of the opportunities to serve (and thus deepen their Christian life)
- providing means for ensuring that gifts/talents of the people are matched with the needs of ministries
- Working with ministries to ensure they meet the expectations of volunteers in terms of the activities they participate in and their stated commitment
- generally enhancing, enriching and supporting the work of the ministries and furthering St. Timothy’s mission of doing God’s work

Duncan and I have been discussing and examining ways to help the parish meet these goals, and also have been working individually with some of our ministries. We are looking forward to soon taking the next step of forming a ministry team to discern more ways of helping to encourage the stewardship of people within the parish, and helping people overcome that internal inertia that prevents them from sharing their talents with the church and experiencing the joy of participation and giving. One thing we have learned is, no matter how arcane the skill or talent, St Tim’s can usually find a way of utilizing it.

If you’ve not yet heard “small task, small task, small task” around St. Timothy’s, you likely will soon! We are all busy people of God. Our Vestry and ministries recognize this and are taking steps to wherever possible break vital ministry needs down into smaller, more manageable tasks. These may be ongoing, occasional or one-time; once a month or once a year. These will be opportunities to help with parish needs, meet other parishioners, build community, serve others, discover/use gifts and talents, grow, learn, have fun. So watch and listen for—and take advantage of—the abundant opportunities to be part of the “stewardship of people” here in our church community.

Meet Our New Seminarian and His Family

April 27, 2009

Hello! This is Peter, Nicole, & Roman Doddema; we're a seminary family from Virginia Theological Seminary. We will be here through May 2011, and we are delighted to be a part of the St. Timothy's family. It is a joy to attend worship here and we look forward to the time together.

We are from Lawrence, Kansas, home of the University of Kansas and the Kansas Jayhawks. Our sponsoring parish (i.e., the church from which we were sent) is Trinity Episcopal Church, Lawrence (www.trinitylawrence.org). We arrived in Virginia in August 2008 after an intense and wonderful two-year discernment process. During that time, I trained with several priests from the parish, learning a lot about what goes on at the altar, working on my preaching, and learning how to manage a parish. Trinity has several vocational deacons, so I trained with them as well in nursing homes and at the parish. Our sponsoring diocese is Kansas (www.episcopal-ks.org).

My background is bookstores and social work. I ran university book stores for several years, then worked for an organization that put people through college who were laid off from their jobs. Nicole's background is health care and education: she has worked with a huge range of people from children to the elderly. She currently works in the Special Education Department at Franconia Elementary School. Our son, Roman is 7 years old and loves math, science, soccer and Pokémon. He just finished his first big chapter book (217 pages – Diary of a Wimpy Kid), so please ask him about it, as he's proud of this!

After arriving in August, we began visiting churches and eventually looked at nearly 30. However, one visit to St. Timothy's told us that this was a wonderful place to call home. We've found everyone warm and friendly, love the music, and are very grateful for Brad & Leslie's graciousness to us.

We will be here for the summer and I will work as a full time intern at St. Timothy's during that time. Once the fall semester starts at the seminary, I will work approximately 12 hours per week and resume full time classes.

We look forward to knowing everyone better & again are very excited and grateful to be a part of your family. Thank you for this opportunity!

In Christ,
Peter, Nicole, & Roman Doddema

Thanks be to God for Carol Frost

Since April 2005 Carol Frost has been our Parish Administrator. She has served God and us with grace, good humor, patience, and great skill. She manages the Church calendar, puts all the pieces of our Sunday worship together in the worship booklet, coordinates approximately 30 non-Church meetings every week, oversees facility maintenance, handles payroll, supervises volunteer help, answers innumerable phone calls and emails, greets people looking for any kind of assistance, and supports the rest of the Church staff. As St. Timothy's has grown in numbers and ministry, her duties also have grown. Carol is amazing and wonderful!

And she will be leaving St. Timothy's. Carol's husband Tom has now completed Methodist seminary and has been appointed to serve Cunningham United Methodist Church in Palmyra, Virginia beginning July 1st of this year. So Carol and Tom will be moving. Carol will continue to work with us for a while yet, and will train her successor when that person has been selected.

Please convey your gratitude to Carol, and pray for our search for a new Parish Administrator. We will have a reception to honor Carol at a date yet to be determined.

~Fr. Brad

Pre-School Teacher Appreciation Luncheon

In April, parents from the Pre-School held a Teacher Appreciation Luncheon for the pre-school staff. Honored at the luncheon for their long-term dedication to the children and their families were Carolyn Coombe for 20 years and Cheryl Engley for 30 years of service.

The Pre-School also expressed appreciation to Carol Frost, the Parish Administrator, for her thoughtfulness and assistance.

Youth Group News

As spring came in, Saint Timothy's Youth were keeping busy indoors and out. We started with a half lock-in, when youth came together for fun games and good food and to prepare for the Easter Egg Hunt and Agape. Easter Sunday was beautiful, and the egg hunt was a huge success. As parishioners attended regular service, the youth set up the egg hunt, then after the 11:00 a.m. service, children ran throughout the churchyard, searching for eggs. From the giggles and exclamations, the children greatly enjoyed the Easter Egg Hunt. Youth hosted the Spring Challenger Dance and danced into the night with Challenger players and their friends and families.

New officers were elected, with new positions to fill:

Co-Presidents: Benjin Dubishar and Alex Brock

Communications: Nicki Dubishar

Facebook/Web: Matt Hrozencik and Brian Hrozencik

Artistic Director: Matt Dopsovic

Food Coordinators: Mary Brady and Chris Hrozencik

Loft Design: Nicki Dubishar, Benjin Dubishar, and Matt Dopsovic

We finished May with a Memorial Day brunch to honor graduating seniors. Each senior was given a small gift box full of notes and Bible verses to encourage them through college.

June will be just as busy, with Youth Sunday, a study break, a car wash, and a cookout.

Boy Scout Troop 159

Boy Scout Troop 159 is having a busy spring. In April, we went caving at Laurel Caverns in Pennsylvania. It was very wet but fun--we crawled through tiny spaces, saw bats, and came out very muddy. The Spring Camporee was in May and the theme was Brownsea Island (the summer camp theme for first-year Boy Scouts). We learned a lot of stuff about Robert Baden-Powell, the man who founded Boy Scouts of America. Troop 159 set up a landmine traverse game for the other troops. In late May, we're going to Assateague for a family campout on the beach. Troop 159 meets on Monday nights at St. Timothy's.

Charlie's Chili Cook-off Results

Living the Questions

Part one of a series of articles published by Episcopal Life Weekly on the "history, polity, and workings of General Convention."

When the Episcopal Church meets together as the General Convention in Anaheim in the Diocese of Los Angeles, California, from July 8 – July 17, it will be the 76th time the church has gathered to be guided by the Holy Spirit in setting the direction of the church's mission and ministry.

The Episcopal Church's Office of Communication offers this series of six [articles] to help Episcopalians learn more about the church and how it makes decisions about its mission and ministry. To know where we are going, it helps to know where we've been, so we begin at the beginning.

Henry VIII and the separation from Rome

The Episcopal Church began because Henry VIII wanted a divorce, right? Not really. There was more going on in the 16th century than Henry's marital problems, some of it political and some of it theological.

Through prior centuries of war and turmoil the church in Rome worked to preserve European civilization. It enforced rules of conduct, appointed rulers, and controlled the economy. A monk named Martin Luther and others protested what they saw as the church's excesses and interference with people's faith.

King Henry didn't like Luther's reform movement but he wanted more control of the church in England. He, like many political leaders of his time, wanted his people's undivided loyalty, and he had other uses for the English money that supported the church in Rome. Henry broke from Rome, and England suffered as Roman Catholics and Protestants battled for control of the church and the government.

Henry's daughter, Queen Elizabeth I, devised religious and political arrangements, including the third version of The Book of Common Prayer (BCP) in 1559, that left the English church with both Roman Catholic and Protestant characteristics. Walking this middle way between the traditions makes us a sacramental church that promotes thoughtful debate about what God is calling us to do and be as followers of Christ.

While the words of the BCP were first heard in what is now the United States on San Francisco Bay in 1579 (when explorer Sir Francis Drake prayed after putting ashore), what is now the Episcopal Church grew up in colonial settlements on the East Coast. After the Revolution, its members forged a church with no formal loyalties to England.

So The Episcopal Church began with a question. Could a church change its loyalties in this world and still be loyal to Jesus? The Reformation's answer was yes. It showed that we learn more about God when we ask our questions and listen for the answers in prayer and in the words of others in our communities. We began in a disagreement and our history tells us that the church survives disagreements when it stays focused on the importance of coming together to give thanks to God and to do God's reconciling work.
